An Act to incorporate a Company for establishing a turnpike road from the intersection of Duke Street in the town of Alexandria, with the south west line of the District of Columbia, to the ford of Little river where the turnpike road now crosses it.

Sec. 1. Be it enacted by the General Assembly, That William Hartthorne and John Thomas Ricketts in the county of Fairfax, Israel Lacy and Burr Powell in the county of Loudon, David Hunter and William Riddle in the county of Berkeley, Thomas Hammond and Matthew Frame in the county of Jefferson, Bulhrod Taylor and William Davidson in the county of Frederick, Samuel Croadson and William Steenbergen in the county of Shennandoah, be and they are hereby appointed commissioners, to open books for the purpose of receiving subscriptions; in each of which books they shall enter as follows, to wit: "We whose names are hereunto subscribed do promise to pay to the president and directors of the Little river turnpike company, the sum of one hundred dollars for each share of stock in the said company, set opposite to our respective names." Every person at the time of subscribing shall pay to some one of the commissioners the sum of ten dollars for each share by him subscribed, to be by the said commissioners paid to the president and directors who shall be elected agreeably to this act; and the said president and directors shall have power to demand from the subscribers from time to time such advance on their respective shares, as the wants of the company may require, until the whole of their subscriptions shall be paid, giving at least one month's notice thereof in one or more newspapers in Alexandria, the city of Washington, Georgetown and Winchester, and if any person so subscribing shall fail to make any of the said payments, he shall forfeit the sum or sums so paid before by him, to the use of the said road, and shall also forfeit his right to his subscription for such share or shares, and the president & directors shall have power to dispose of such forfeited share or shares for the use of the said road.

Sec. 2. That as soon as two hundred shares shall be subscribed the said commissioners or any four of them, may call a meeting of the subscribers, at Leesburg in the county of Loudon, giving one month's notice thereof in at least one newspaper in Alexandria, the city of Washington, Georgetown and Winchester, by a majority of votes delivered in person or by proxy duly authorized, shall elect one president, four directors, one treasurer, and such other officers as they shall think necessary, to conduct the business of the said company for one year, and until such other officers shall be chosen, and may also make such bye laws & regulations not inconsistent with the constitution and laws of this state, as shall be necessary for well ordering and conducting the affairs of the said company. Provided that no person have more than ten votes at any election or in any question which may occur at any meeting. And immediately after such election, the said president and directors shall inform the Governor of this state thereof, who shall by letters patent under his hand and the seal of the state, create the subscribers and those who shall afterwards subscribe, to the number of two hundred additional shares, into a body politic and corporate by the name and style of The President, Directors, and Company of the Little river turnpike Company, and the said subscribers by the same name, shall have perpetual succession and all the privileges incident to a corporation.

Sec. 3. And be it further enacted, That the president and directors cause to be written or printed, certificates for the shares of the stock in the said company, and shall deliver one such certificate, signed by the president and countersigned by the treasurer to each person for every share subscribed by him, which certificate shall be transferable by him, subject however to all payments due, or to grow due thereon; and such assignee having first caused the transfer or assignment to be entered in a book of the company to be kept for that purpose, shall thenceforth become a member of the said company.

Sec. 4. And be it further enacted, That the said president and directors, their superintendants, surveyors, engineers, artist and chain-bearers, may enter into and upon all the lands, tenements and enclosures, through which the said turnpike road passes, and to examine all beds of stone or gravel in the vicinity, which may be necessary for making the said road; first giving notice of their intention to the owners thereof, and if they cannot agree with such owner for any wood, gravel, stone or other materials for the said purposes, they shall appoint three disinterested freeholders, any two of whom may appraise the same; or if the said owner shall refuse to join in the choice, then the appointment of such freeholders to be made by some justice of the peace of the county, and the said president and directors on paying the said appraised value thereof, may lawfully enter into the said lands, tenements and enclosures, and dig, cut and carry away, any of the said materials, doing as little damage as possible, and repairing any breaches they may make in the enclosures, and making amends for any damage in the manner aforesaid.

Sec. 5. And be it further enacted, That the said president and directors shall have power to make bridges over all the water courses crossing the said road, wherever they shall be found necessary, and shall make the said road thirty feet in width, with a sufficient ditch on each side, twenty feet of which road shall be well covered with gravel or stone in such places as shall require it, so as to render the passing of waggons thereon as easy and convenient as possible, and they the said president and directors, shall forever hereafter keep the same in good and perfect order and repair, the whole extent of the said road.

Sec. 6. And be it further enacted, That the said president and directors shall have power to run the said road in any course they shall suppose most eligible, taking into view shortness of distance, the nature of the ground and other circumstances; their superintendants, surveyors, engineers, and chain bearers to enter into and upon all and every lands, tenements and enclosures through which the said intended road may be thought proper to pass, and to survey, lay down and mark out, such route or tract for the same, as in the best of their judgment will combine shortness of distance with the most convenient and practicable ground; and if the proprietor or proprietors of any ground thro' which the said road may pass shall require compensation for the same, and also for the additional fencing which may be thereby rendered necessary, and the president and directors shall not be able to agree with them or their agents for the price thereof, the court of the county in which the land lies, whose duty it shall be to direct the sheriff of the said county, to summon twelve disinterested freeholders, who being first sworn, shall view the said ground, and assess the value thereof and any other damages in the manner prescribed by an act entitled "An act concerning public roads," which assessment shall be paid by the said president and directors or their agent, before the road shall be opened thro' the said ground; and any ground which may be necessary to erect houses on for the toll gatherers, may be condemned and paid for in like manner.

Sec. 7. And be it further enacted, That as soon as the said president and directors shall have completed the said road, ten miles from the District of Columbia, towards Little river, and so from time to time, any other like distance progressively, they shall give notice thereof to the governor of this state, who shall forthwith appoint three skillful persons, to view and examine the same and to report to him whether the said road is so far executed according to the meaning of this act, and if their report be in the affirmative the said Governor shall permit them to erect such and so many gates or turnpikes upon the said road as will be necessary, and also to appoint toll gatherers for the purpose of collecting the tolls herein granted to the said company, that is to say: For every space of ten miles on the said road, the following sums, and so in proportion for every greater or lesser distance: viz: For every score of sheep twelve cents, for every score of hogs twelve cents, for every score of cattle twenty five cents, and so in proportion for any greater or lesser number; for every horse six cents, for every two wheeled riding carriage twelve and a half cents, for every four wheeled riding carriage twenty five cents, for every cart or waggon on the wheels whereof do not exceed four inches in breadth, six cents, for each horse drawing the same; if the wheels exceed four inches and are less than seven inches in breadth, three cents for each horse drawing the same, and where the breadth of the wheels exceed seven inches, two cents for each horse drawing the same, and every mule or ox drawing any wagon or cart, shall be estimated in paying the said tolls as equal to a horse; Provided always, That return waggons and carts shall be subject to no toll whatever, unless they shall have a load exceeding five hundred weight, in which case they shall pay the same tolls as by this act established; and provided also, that nothing in this act shall extend to those travelling up or down the stage road leading from Colchester to Alexandria, nor to the roads falling into the said stage road below the ford of Great Hunting creek; and until the said road shall be completed, the county courts of Loudon and Fairfax shall be, and they are hereby empowered and required to appoint overseers, and to allot the male laboring tithables residing within three miles of the road as at present established, to work thereon, not exceeding six days in any one year.

Sec. 8. And be it further enacted, That if the said company shall neglect to keep the said road in repair for the space of five days, and information thereof shall be given to any justice of the peace in the neighborhood, he shall issue a warrant to a constable, commanding him to summon three freeholders to meet at a certain time and at the place complained of, both to be mentioned in the warrant, previous reasonable notice having been given to the person entrusted with the repair thereof, and if on enquiry by the said freeholders, in presence of a justice of the peace, the said road shall be found to be out of order according to the true meaning of this act, the tolls shall cease to be demanded at the nearest gate, until such defective part of the said road shall be put in proper repair, and moreover the person entrusted by the said company with the repair thereof, shall be subject to a fine of ten dollars, to be recovered by warrant with costs, before a justice of the peace, one moiety to the use of the poor of the county, and the other to the person prosecuting for the same.

Sec. 9. And be it further enacted, That if the said company shall not proceed to carry on the said work, within one year after the first day of March next, & shall not within seven years thereafter, complete the said road, according to the true meaning of this act, in either of these cases, the legislature of this state, may resume all the rights and privileges hereby granted to the said company.

Sec. 10. And be it further enacted, That the tolls herein allowed, shall be subject to the control of the legislature at the end of seven years after the completion of the said road, or at any time thereafter; provided, that they shall not be so reduced as to make them nett less than fifteen per centum, on the whole stock of the said company in any one year, to the shareholders therein.

Sec. 11. This act shall commence and be in force from and after the first day of March next.

CONGRESS. OF THE UNITED STATES. HOUSE OF REPRESENTATIVES.

MAY 1, 1802.

Debate on the motion to recommit the report of the committee of Investigation.

Mr. Bayard. I know not, that there was complete satisfaction, as to the manner of each disbursement, but I mean, that it sufficiently appeared that the money had been expended on the public account. Thus an unsettled account probably less in amount than 2000 dollars, give the appearance of a balance unaccounted for, exceeding 880,000 dollars. There are numerous instances of the same kind. In the list of balances is the sum of 122,000 dollars, charged against Capt. Vance, and it is stated in the annexed note, that it appears that the whole sum has been duly applied.—So against Benjamin Williamson is charged a sum, exceeding 235,000, though it is stated, that he has furnished accounts of the application of the whole sum. It is needless to cite other instances of a similar kind; those which have been shewn, must convince the whole house, that the report is not explicit, and is extremely exposed to a false interpretation. The objection to this part of the report, furnishes the strongest ground for a recommitment. It certainly cannot be the design, to raise a belief, that millions of the public money remains unaccounted for when the documents from which all our knowledge is derived, shew but a very small sum remains unaccounted for, & when I undertake to say that the evidence before us, is not sufficient to prove, that there is a dollar due to the United States. Can it be the interest of any in the nation, or of any member upon this floor, to destroy the public confidence in the general administration of the government. Let the pecuniary honesty of one administration be suspected and their successors will soon sink under the same odious suspicion. On such a subject, we should banish our partialities and antipathies, not merely as a sacrifice which belongs to justice, but as an act required by a great national and common interest. I acknowledge that this part of the report will be harmless in the hands of those who will read, and are able to understand the document on which it is founded. But the bulk of the document will probably exclude it from the public papers, and the greater number of persons who read the report, will read it without explanation. The probability therefore, of the report's creating false impressions, of a nature extremely derogatory from the honor of the government, would alone be a sufficient motive with me to vote in favor of the motion to recommit.

There are many other grounds upon which I consider the report exceptionable. It is not however my intention at this late hour (6 o'clock) to enter into all the details of the report. My observations will be confined to a few prominent and important points, upon which the different members of the committee, held very opposite opinions. I had no knowledge of the resolution of my friend from Connecticut (Mr. Griswold) to submit the motion on the table, before the meeting of the house this morning, and am therefore the more gratified, that the honorable mover has taken so comprehensive a view of the subject, as to render it totally unnecessary for me to go over the whole of the ground.

I shall by the indulgence only of a few words, upon one or two heads, respecting which, the opinion I entertain, is decidedly opposed to that, expressed by a majority of the committee. I cannot well conceive of a plainer mistake, than what appears in the opinion, pronounced on the purchase of six navy yards, made by the late secretary of the navy. The committee I think, ought to be allowed an opportunity of reviewing that opinion.—Four of those six yards, are considered as purchased without authority, and the money paid for them misapplied.

By the acts of the legislature of February 1799 the secretary of the navy, was directed to cause to be built, six ships, each to carry not less than 74 guns; and six sloops of war, of 18 guns.—For this purpose, a million of dollars was appropriated, 200,000 dollars were appropriated to the purchase of land, bearing timber suitable for the navy, and fifty thousand dollars for the making of two docks. These laws passed on successive days, indicated the design of a permanent navy establishment. It was perfectly understood, that the ships of the line, were not directed to be built for the occasional defence of the country at that period, but were intended as the commencement of a lasting system of defence, which was expected to encrease with the growth of the commerce and resources of the country. It was far from our expectation, that the navy of the United States, was to be limited to six ships of the line, or to any number within the convenient means of the country, short of a force adequate to render our flag respectable and our navigation secure. It was not supposed that the seventy four's would be launched for several years, but we had hopes, when they left the stocks, a flourishing commerce would enable us to lay the keels of new ships in their places. Under this view, were the 200,000 dollars appropriated to the purchase of land producing timber fit for a navy. With this knowledge, so plainly derivable from the policy pursued by the legislature what was the secretary of the department of the navy to do. It was made his duty to build six seventy four's and six sloops of war. It is surely not expected, that they were to be built on the water or in the air, and of consequence, it will be allowed that he had authority to provide yards for the purpose of constructing them. The public had no yards, and it was therefore necessary to obtain ground from individuals. As there were no persons disposed to make charitable grants, it remained only for the United States to purchase ground in fee simple, or for a term of years, paying a gross sum or an annual rent. The act of congress, directing the ships to be built, appropriated not a dollar either for the renting or for the purchase of land. But a million of dollars were appropriated to the building of the ships, which was directed to be done, but which could not be done, without an expenditure for land.—Can there be a plainer proposition, than that an appropriation for a certain service, embraces every article without which the service cannot be performed.—In the present instance, the service imposed upon the secretary, could not be performed without obtaining navy yards at the public expense. It therefore rested in his discretion, for the faithful exercise of which he was accountable to the government, either to purchase or rent the ground, necessary for the yards. It was his duty to conform to the views of the legislature, and to make such an arrangement, as would be most advantageous to the public. If it answered the object, and was most for the interest of the government to rent, then surely he ought to have rented, but if it comported more with their views, or was more to their benefit to purchase, it was then his duty to purchase.

Same day. Brig Greyhound, Parsons, Malaga, via Tobago, released from quarantine.

Same day. Ship Washington, Roberts, Cadiz, 39 days. Spoke, lat. 35 30, long. 32, ship Fabius 30 days from Philadelphia.

NEW-YORK, July 21.

Captain Squally, of the sloop Agnes, from St. Augustine, informs us that a few days previous to his sailing a party of Indians, under General Bowles, surprised and took prisoners 1 woman and seven children near St. Augustine, in the absence of the father of the family, and killed the eldest son, a young man about twenty-three years of age. About the same time several whites and blacks were massacred by another of Bowles's parties. This chieftain has fitted out a privateer schooner mounting 14 guns, to cruise against the Spaniards; and has already made two prizes.

HEALTH OFFICE.

The Board of Health, announce, with great pleasure, to the public, that since their last publication, no person has taken sick or died in the vicinity of Vine street, and that but two remain indisposed, both of whom are on the recovery.

By order of the Board.

CORNELIUS COMEGYS,

President.

Attest,
BENJAMIN F. GARRIGUES,
Secretary.

Arrived, ship Farmer, Gibson, Bordeaux; sch. Belvidere, Potter, Richmond; Federalist, Creaton, do; Happy Return, Jarvis, do; sloop Thames, Ewing, do.

Cleared, brig Harriot, Stokesbury, Cape Francois.

The brig Eliza, Churnsides, from N. Orleans, is arrived at New Castle, Del. Sailed from the Balise the 2d inst. in company with the sloop Sally, Wilkinson, and for this port. Passed in the river, bound up, the brig Amiable Creole, and Augusta, of this port.

Left at New Orleans, the brig Dispatch of this port, and saw coming into the Delaware several square-rigged vessels.

The ship Fabius, Hutchinson, from hence to Spain, was spoken in lat. 36, long. 22, out 30 days, all well.

Sch. Lydia, Brown, of this port, has arrived at Havannah, from New Orleans, and proceeded for Cape Francois, was spoke on the 7th instant, all well.

Health-Office.

TO relieve the public mind from any undue apprehension relative to the existence of a malignant fever in our city, and to check the various and contradictory reports which are circulating on the subject—the board of health conceive it their indispensable duty, after having made all the inquiries in their power, to detail the following statement of facts:

That on the 2d day of July, John Kel. of Thames-street, Fell's Point, sickened with a fever marked with the characteristics of a malignant fever, and died the 7th.

Joseph Hopkins, who lived in the counting house of Messrs. Pollard and Cornthwait, Bowly's wharf, sickened on the 2d of a simular fever, and died on the 7th.

Joshua Coale, an apprentice to Thomas Jewett, currier, in Cumberland Row, sickened on the 3d and died the 12th.

John Wilson, who lived at Fell's Point, near Wilson's Wharf, after undergoing much fatigue for several days, sickened at George-Town the 14th and died the 19th, the second day after his return to his brothers in East street.

James Smith, carpenter at Fell's Point, sickened the 13th, and is now in great danger.

Charles Frederick Lanberger, a baker, in light street, sickened on the 17th, and is now dangerously ill in the hospital.

Mrs. Smith, wife of James Smith, sickened the 19th, and is now ill.

Nicholas Willis, who lived in the counting house of Mr. Repold, sickened on the 11th, and is now well.

In the investigation of the circumstances of the above cases of fever, the Board of Health have ascertained, to their entire satisfaction, two points of material interest to our citizens—

1st, That in no instance has the disease been communicated to the attendants or friends of the sick.

2d, That from the different situations of those who have fallen victims to the disease, they could not have derived it from the same neighbourhood.

The Board are, therefore, willing to believe, that those instances of disease which have unhappily appeared in our city are solitary cases of malignant fever, from which, of late years, we have not been wholly exempt during the hot months.

These observations are not made to lull our citizens into a security that might prove fatal; but to suggest the necessity of vigilance, without alarm, and of an attention to individual cleanliness, which no police can sufficiently enforce: for, from whatever source the yellow fever may be derived, it is now admitted that impure air is necessary to its full propagation.

By order of the board,

ASHTON ALEXANDER,

President.

Attest,
ADAM FORDERDEN, sec'y.

Arrived, sch. Chance, capt. West, 19 days from Kingston (Jam.) Left there, sch. Thomas, Boden, just arrived from this port, and several other Philadelphia vessels, names unknown. A brig for Philadelphia sailed with the Chance. The sch. Milford, Elwood, of Baltimore, failed two days before, to touch at St. Jago. In lat. 21, long. 85, spoke the sch. —, captain Clarke, from port Antonio, bound to Norfolk.

The schooner Natulus, Bishop, failed from Kingston 27th of June, for Baltimore; the same evening was struck with lightning, which tore her foretopmast and shrouds entirely to pieces; the foretopmast little less injured;—after which it passed through the bend. Two of the crew, John Crofley and William Johnson were killed, and Horace Walker much bruised, with the loss of both eyes. When the confusion occasioned had subsided, captain Bishop bore away for land, and next morning anchored at Black River, when he took the pilot boat & proceeded to Savannah-la-Mar, from whence he intended going to Havanna to get a mast, not being able to procure one there.

Flour at Kingston 7 dollars.

Alexandria Advertiser.

SATURDAY, JULY 24.

The party intended for this evening is unavoidably postponed in consequence of the Brumalau being priorly engaged—it will take place next Saturday.

We are authorised to inform the public that the Theatre will positively be opened in the course of the ensuing week; the entertainments will be expressed in the bills for the day.

The language of the French Statesmen towards Great Britain, has undergone a vast change, lately. The Archbishop of Tours, in his sermon before Bonaparte, says, "When one has seen the power, [meaning the English] the best established on its ancient firm and constitution, and still more strong by the calmness of its manners, and the happy ascendancy of national habits, tremble, in every part, at the approach of danger," &c. "It was then first felt by every government what was to be feared from the convulsions of a single people, and the revolutions of a single empire." And Felix Fauleon, one of the French legislators, says, "Thus, then, we are going to live in future, in friendship with the illustrious neighbours, who preceded us in the career of liberty! Those honorable islanders will see, that the French will contend with them in the lists for brilliant discoveries, pacific conquests, and true glory." Panegyric cannot be stronger than this.

COMMERCIAL.

The commercial council of Bordeaux have recommended, that no foreigners shall be allowed to sell their ships in France; that the wood in the interior of France fit for ship building should be immediately sent to the sea port; that importations of materials from the north of Europe, should be particularly encouraged by premiums, &c. that ships of war en route should be immediately dispatched to Guiana for timber, &c. and that foreigner should upon no account be permitted to interfere in the coasting trade of France.

The latest London papers mention that the French have issued orders to prevent the importation of British merchandise by the way of the left bank of the Rhine and the frontiers of Holland. The French appear determined to restrict the trade of all nations—this ought to produce countervailing measures. In Great Britain it will. The Gallic rulers do not agree in the sentiments of some Americans that commerce requires no fostering care, that it will regulate itself.

LONDON, May 27.

Reported attempt on Bonaparte.

A most extraordinary report has been brought from Calais, by a vessel which arrived at Dover last night. It is, that the life of Bonaparte has been again attempted.—The attempt is said to have been made upon the parade at the Quintidi review. The conspirators surrounded him, and stabbed him. Happily the wound was slight; an Aide-Camp, however, near him, was mortally wounded.

We give this as a rumour, without pledging ourselves in the slightest degree for its authenticity. It may be only an echo of a report circulated here some days ago, on the authority of some private accounts from Paris, which mentioned that a conspiracy against Bonaparte's life had been planned, but had been discovered.

From Dover, May 26.—"The Rambler, arrived here from Calais last night, with 11 gentlemen passengers.

"A report is in circulation here by some of the above passengers, that Bonaparte was surrounded on the parade by a band of persons who attempted to stab him; he was slightly wounded himself, and his secretary mortally wounded.

This I mention merely as the report of the moment, not having time, as most of the passengers are on board the vessel, to get farther particulars."

HOUSE OF COMMONS—May 26.

[A letter.]

THE TURKISH REBEL.

The cabinet of Vienna has received important information respecting Pashwan, Oglou, by an Austrian, who served as a subaltern officer in the Pacha's army but deserted from Widden on the 4th of April, to return home. He states, in an affidavit made before the Austrian Commandant at Mehadia, that the flower of Pashwan Oglou's army consists of christians of almost every country in Europe, whom he pays and treats in the most liberal manner. Of natives and Janissaries he can always command from 10 to 12 000 men, who are better disciplined than the troops of the Grand Seigneur. Many Frenchmen, who escaped from Hungary, where they were retained prisoners of war, and near 1000 English emigrants, form separate corps.

HOUSE OF LORDS—May 26.

Lord Suffolk announced his intention of bringing forward a motion on Thursday next, (June 5,) for a censure of the late Ministers, for the recent war, its causes and consequences down to the "degrading" peace.

A bill was read for keeping full the number of militia to be embodied for monthly exercise, and to empower the king to augment it, in case of invasion or any other public exigency, 20,000 men—making then in the whole 62,000. The bill passed for a third reading. Lord Hobart said he was in favor of the bill, because of the relative power of France and the rest of Europe not from any opinion that the present French government did not sincerely wish for the continuance of peace; nor from any opinion that it was less likely to continue than any former peace. Lord Fitzwilliam viewed the peace as precarious and uncertain; and inferred that such was really the opinion of Lord Habert. The Marquis of Buckingham declared his perfect conviction of the insecurity of the present peace.

Many of the greatest characters of our country have been charged with embezzling the public money;—and nothing has contributed more than this charge to destroy the confidence the people had in their patriotism. It was promised that these charges should be proved to be true, and for this purpose "a committee of investigation" was chosen from the democratic phalanx, to investigate their accounts. As congress were about to break up, this committee made their "Report," and to the astonishment of all of their sect who were not in the secret, in this very report, establish the integrity of the accused persons beyond all manner of doubt. The only charge they dared to make against them, was, that when too large a sum was appropriated for one object, and a sum not sufficient for another, they had taken the overplus of the one to fill the deficiency of the other, when the public good required it: or, in other words, that they had not confined themselves strictly to the appropriations made by law. It shews to what a great strait these fellows must have been driven, when they are compelled to substantiate their assertions by such lame charges as these. What would you think of a preacher who should tell you from the pulpit that it was highly immoral to eat or drink, and should immediately go home and practice it himself? And equally absurd is this charge of the "investigating committee." I would ask, what appropriation was there made by law for sending Mr. Dawson to France as bearer of the treaty? What appropriation was there for repairing the French Corvette Berceau? What appropriation was made for sending a squadron of ships to protect our Mediterranean trade? The last you will say was a measure which tended to the public good, and therefore, though no appropriation was made by law, still Mr. Jefferson deserves the thanks of the public for it. I answer that the "committee of investigation," have acknowledged that every deviation that was made by Pickering or Stoddert from appropriations made by law tended to the public benefit, and therefore, according to these acknowledgments deserve praise instead of censure—but with such unlawful use of the public money as Mr. Jefferson has made in the affairs of Dawson, and the French Corvette, neither Pickering nor Stoddert has ever been charged with, and I have no doubt that Mr. Jefferson, at some future time, will have to answer for this conduct. The charge therefore, of deviating from specified appropriations, when the public is benefitted by such deviations, is childish and insignificant in the extreme—the responsibility of the officer for the due performance of his duty is the only security a government can have, in certain cases, for expenditures of public money, and the investigating committee could not but be acquainted with this circumstance at the time they made this futile charge.

FOR SALE,

21 Tierces Bottled Porter—
 London Brown Stout,
 10 Quarter casks Port Wine, and a quantity of Liverpool and Lisbon Salt; low for cash or approved paper.

Wm. HODGSON.

Ten Dollars Reward.

RAN AWAY from the subscriber, on Tuesday, the 6th instant, a Negro Man named WILL, about 27 years of age, five feet nine or ten inches high, has a scar on his left knee and another on his right foot;
 hid on when he went away, a ticklenburgh shirt, brown roll towels and a wool hat about half worn; but it is likely he may have changed his dress, as he took with him a cotton shirt, an old light brown broadcloth coat, and a new pair of shoes. He may probably be lurking about Alexandria, and may attempt to pass for a free man. I will give the above reward for apprehending and securing him in any jail so that I get him again, and if brought home all reasonable charges will also be paid.

Masters of vessels and others are forbid harboring, carrying off or employing said Negro at their peril.
